Laser Quest!!!!

Congratulations to that random kid that wasn't part of our troop, who just so happened to beat everyone at Laser Quest. During Laser Quest we had two rounds; one of which was with two teams while the other was the traditional free-for-all match. I lived up to my promise by coming in third during the free-for-all match, but I was later humbled when I came in 20th during our team match. Afterwards we enjoyed pizza and leftover cookies. I hope any of you who missed this awesome event will be able to attend next year!!!!

Christmas Caroling:

Overall it went very well for diving into an event blindly. We ended up strolling through the hallways of three different wings singing straight down the list of songs starting with "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" and ending with "We Wish You a Merry Christmas". We had a very nice turn out of around 18 people total (not counting the senior citizens at the nursing home, who joined in with us). Big thanks to those of you were able to come and we hope to see you all there again next year!

NOW "HIRING" A CARTOONIST!!!!

I'm looking for anyone who's good with Photo-shop, paint, or maybe even drawing/sketching in general to help create cartoons for the newsletter! If you're interested or would like more details email me at scribe.152.2011@gmail.com. No, you will not be paid! ;)

New Articles Coming Soon:

To celebrate the New Year, I'll be releasing some new articles! One of which will be a food critic article. For this article a randomly selected scout will try a bite of a randomly selected patrol's food and write up a review of it, which will be posted in the following issue. The scout will change every campout and I may even select multiple scouts to review multiple patrols. If you have any other ideas for newsletter articles let me know at scribe.152.2011@gmail.com.

Happy New Year!!!!

2012 is quickly approaching, which means it's time to see what you've completed in the last year and plan out your New Year's resolutions for the coming year! Before 2013 strikes, I hope to achieve the rank of Life, and begin to rapidly pursue the rank of Eagle! What do you plan to achieve this year?

Christmas Activity:

Sending a letter to Santa at age 11+ can be a little BORING!

Why not mix it up a little bit this year? Write a letter to the French Santa Claus, Le Père Noel, using Google translate, or your own knowledge of French, then send it to:

Père Noël

Pôle NordHOH OHO

Canada

He'll reply in French!

Rudolph, erm...Scoutmaster Thought-

Sometimes, even through the darkest of storms, it takes the seemingly least likely person to lead the team through to success. The question is not only whether you are that person, but if you are not, do you have the courage to recognize that person, even when physical characteristics or unfavorable personality traits stand in your way???
